

The Nancy R. Chandler Lecture Series presents

Engaging conversations, ideas and lifelong discovery

FOOD JUSTICE

AT THE INTERSECTION OF FOOD, POLITICS, ART, AND CULTURE

BRYANT TERRY

Chef, Author, Artist, Publisher

Tuesday, May 16, 7 p.m.

Wille Hall, Coats Campus Center
COCC Bend Campus, 2600 NW College Way

Bryant Terry will take us on a journey of his more than two-decade career as a chef, author, publisher, and community builder committed to creating a healthful, just, and sustainable food system. From grassroots organizing to book publishing, Terry has employed cultural strategy, centering art, storytelling, media, and cooking to bring about social change. Through a dynamic presentation that includes singing and rapping, and fusing personal narrative with food politics, Terry will show us how to improve access to fresh food in our communities — whether that community is your campus, workplace, neighborhood, or your group of friends.

COCC bookstore will be selling three of Terry's cookbooks and Terry will be available for book signing after the event.

About Bryant Terry

Bryant Terry is the founder of 4 Color Books, a publishing imprint which collaborates with forward-thinking and groundbreaking BIPOC chefs, writers, artists, and activists. Terry is the author of six critically acclaimed books and has won a James Beard Award, an NAACP Image Award, and an Art of Eating Prize. His latest book, Black Food, illuminates a part of the Black experience offering recipes, essays, and art.
